

The Times

SINGLE PAGE—FOURTEEN PAGES
AT THE OFFICE COUNTER. PRICE 3 CENTS

LOS ANGELES

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 18, 1900.

ON STREETS AND TRAINS
AT ALL NEWS AGENTS 5 CENTS

ONE YEAR

owers for the maintenance of the open door on Chinese soil, whether parts of the present territory of China are to be ceded by other sovereigns or not. A determined stand will be made by the United States against the partition of the Chinese empire, in accordance with the purpose set forth in the note of Secretary Hay on July 4.

ORDERED TO PEKING.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Advisers from the Chinese, it is reported there that Sun Yat Sen, the reformer, captured Hui Chow last Monday. The Cantonese assert that Hui Chow, who resisted the insurgents in the Taiping rebellion, falls thus, the rebels will be able to take Canton within a week.

Admiral Ho, with the bulk of his forces, left Shanghai this morning in pursuit of the rebels, leaving 500 to protect Shanghai and sending 500 to garrison the mandarin station at Mao Tu on the western arm of Deep Bay. The United States gunboat Marquette, from Swallow, arrived at Hongkong, loaded and proceeded for Canton.

FRENCH MEMORANDUM.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—M.—This morning, the French chargé d'affaires, to-day presented a memorandum to the State Department from the French government stating that the negotiations with China had been suspended in accordance with the favorable action of the powers on the recent French note.

KAISER'S SPECIAL INTRENT.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—It is understood that Emperor William will send a special message regarding the Chinese situation to the Reichstag when that body reassembles on November 14. The date of the message is not known. Baron William and Count Von Buslow.

MISSION PARENTS DEFENDED.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

VERCOURT, Oct. 17.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The Kraus Zeitung, in a review of the Chinese question, severely condemns Russia's attitude, contending that it will not serve Russia's own ends to trust China too considerably.

A letter has been received here from two German merchants, Herrers Blafield and Klemm, who left Tien-Tsin on October 13 and have been absent tandem with the relief column. They claim to have found indubitable proof that Baron Von Ketteler, the murdered Minister, went to the Tung Li Yamen as the express death of the whole diplomatic corps, after which he was strongly assured that there was no danger. They say that his whole conduct before and on the day of the murder was devoid of provocation.

IMPORTANT MOVE AFOOT.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Will either smash the rebellion or give it new power. Chinese authorities urgently need reinforcements.

The whole movement is directed against government of officials, but the Chinese and native Christians are fleeing from the region and are being robbed and ill-treated by bands of ruffians.

HOSPITAL WORK OF AMERICANS.

Scenes of Sufferers of All Nationalities Were Relieved by Our Surgeons.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Admiral Von Hayen, Surgeon-General of the Navy, has received a detailed report from Surgeon C. J. Decker, who was on board the Monocacy during the assault of the Taku forts, and who later established a base hospital at Tung Men, where the bulk of the British, American and Russian wounded from Tien-Tsin, were operated upon and cared for. The report is a most interesting contribution, giving the first statement of the wounds made by Chinese shot and shell, the remarkable skill shown by the wounded and the care which the American surgeons were able to extend to British, Russian and German and Japanese and Chinese patients. The American officers were especially kind and considerate, and Surgeon Decker, called at the "American Hospital" to witness thanks, and later Admiral Hayen made similar calls.

Surgeon Decker first gives a graphic description of the storming of the Taku forts and explains why the Monocacy did not reply when she was struck by a Chinese shell. It appears that she was crowded with refugees, many of them women and children, so that her entering on the fight would have surrounded scores of women and children.

The wounded began coming in about 8 o'clock. Surgeon Decker says: "Only a few operations were performed on the Monocacy owing to limited facilities. But two hours were up and down, and very soon eight Japanese, twenty-three Russians and sixteen Chinese were operated upon. Dr. Decker says the skill of the wounded was remarkable. In one case, that of a Chinese, he was amputated, there were amputations of the fourth and fifth metacarpal bones and middle finger. The Chinese then asked for something to eat, and after being fed, returned to duty. By 3 o'clock the hospital was crowded with the wounded, all their wounded. The Russian surgeons began work and the Chinese wounded were carried away by their comrades, although one who was suffering greatly from shock was kept among the Americans.

Surgeon Decker then tells of the preparations for the expected attack on Tien-Tsin. Many wounded were listed for, so that he secured Admiral Hayen's privilege for opening a base hospital at Tung Men, where the front could be readily brought. In the absence of a regular hospital equipment, the Yerkes, Newark and Monocacy each contributed spring beds, mattresses, and a few other hospital supplies. The first of the wounded from Tien-Tsin came in at 11 a.m., on the list of June, including American marines and some Chinese. For a month a small hospital was busily engaged, 47 cases being treated.

During this time the English surgeon-in-chief was taken with scarlet fever, and the American surgeons took charge of the English hospital containing twenty-five beds. At the same time, Surgeon Decker and their staffs called and expressed their thanks to the Americans. As the American surgeons had the only operating table it was necessary to be the English, Russian and French Chinese mines had managed many of the patients. Ninety per cent of the Chinese were armed with Mauser rifles, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound.

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

Surgeon Decker describes each case, showing the peculiarity of wounds made by Chinese weapons, many of them novel to military surgeons. One of these of extreme rarity of one which whose picture is given, showing the gaping wound torn by a Chinese bullet. Dr. Decker describes the wound as follows:

"A copper nickel jacket from a Mauser rifle, others with Mausers and rifles, the latter a one-man gun, a solid bullet, making an ugly wound."

MONEY TO LOAN

Los Angeles
Business College

212 W. Third St. Tel. Black 2651.
Globe, Los Angeles, Calif. The largest source of funds in Los Angeles, offering
Teaching, Telegraphing and Advertising
Courses. Commercial and Technical Business College, members of the National Association of Schools. The College has the exclusive use of the University of Southern California's Theatre. The College is located in the center of Los Angeles, and is well equipped with all the latest machinery and apparatus. The College is well known for its sound and practical training.

TO LOAN—

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

AT THE THEATERS.

LOS ANGELES—King of the Opium King, BURRANK—The Country Girl, GUTHRIE—Vanderlin.

COMPARATIVE TEMPERATURES.

NAME	MAX.	MIN.	NAME	MAX.	MIN.
London	72	54	New York	72	54
Washington	72	52	Philadelphia	72	52
Baltimore	72	52	Cincinnati	72	52
Chicago	72	52	St. Paul	72	52
Minneapolis	72	52	Minneapolis	72	52
Los Angeles	72	52	San Francisco	72	52

(The maximum is for October 12; the minimum for October 17. The mean is the average temperature for the two days.)

DOTS AND DASHES.

Another Convention.

A city convention of the Socialist Labor Party will be held Saturday at 5 o'clock at McNamee's Hall, No. 125 North Main street, to nominate candidates for a city ticket.

Ballot Boxes Returned.

The Federal grand jury made a partial report yesterday, and returned two mysterious indictments. The contents of the indictments, parts of the parties are still at large. The United States Marshal is busy trying to apprehend them.

Budget Plan.

A. V. Standard, the enterprising San Fernando millman who refused to answer the questions of the census enumerator, was fined $10 by Judge Hollister of the Los Angeles County Court yesterday. Standard does not intend to tread on Uncle Sam's coat tails again.

Freight by Motor.

The road in automobiles is to be a freight line between Los Angeles and Fresno, Ontario and Chico. A forty-horse-power automobile truck, capable of carrying 1,000 pounds, can travel three to five miles an hour. It is to be put on the line. A horse truck has been used as a conveyance.

Four Colored Boyscouts.

The Colored Boy Scouts and Stevenson Club had a meeting last night at No. 188 North Spring street. A few hundred white people were present and the colored people were excluded. Negro boys, among the speakers were Thomas Thompson, R. F. Douglass (colored) and C. C. Flint (colored).

Flat From Wagon.

J. A. Boyce of No. 312 West Eleventh street, who drives a milk wagon for Joe Grinnell's, was sent to the University Hospital yesterday. While attempting to turn his wagon on High street, near Fifteenth, he fell to the ground, sustaining a dislocation of the right knee and bruises on the left leg below the knee.

Accidental Death.

An inquest was held yesterday on the death of a man, about nine years old, who died Tuesday night at his residence, No. 1802 Atlantic street. He had been a sufferer, from throat trouble and occasionally took small quantities of whisky to kill the pain. He accidentally took a large quantity and could not be revived. A verdict of accidental death was rendered.

Mass Church Changes.

Improvements which will alter one of the oldest landmarks in Los Angeles are to be made on the Plaza Church. The old church has stood as it is for nearly two centuries, and the windows are to be enlarged, the exterior covered to be changed to curves, and the walls frescoed. The priests' home will also be materially changed.

Wife Hailed!

Some of a prehistoric monster, probably a monk and lousy cow with a wrinkled horn, are being dug up on the hill above the old hill, and some of a great monument. White men are gazing at the scattered remains of carcass with awe and reverence, and are calling the innocent skeleton spirits the amazing names. Meanwhile, the other, who is being beautifully filled.

Was Shot Out.

J. C. Angrine of No. 288 South Broadway has returned from Paris, where he went to enter his patent life-saving apparatus in the Folksam contest. He got there too late, owing, as he says, to being misinformed by Committee. Paris refused to get the exhibit in the competition. He filed a protest, however. Mr. Angrine claims that the competition was not fairly conducted.

Loyal Cabinet.

J. C. Malmrose of No. 624 Darwin Avenue, and H. C. Wheat, No. 625 Elmwood, have filed a protest over the publication of their names among the list of vice-presidents of the mass meeting, held last night under the auspices of the Colored Bryan and Stevenson Club. They state that they are loyal Republicans. They say that the use of their names was unauthorized in the call for the Democratic meeting. Off Lead Litigation.

A complaint in equity brought by H. C. Cripps and seven others against the Acton Petroleum Company to recover $100,000 in oil royalties, and a sum of twenty acres of land, the Colored Bryan oil fields was transferred yesterday from the Superior Court of Fresno county to the northern division of the United States Circuit Court. The defendant company wrongfully entered upon the land in question and is now without right developing oil thereon. Damages are claimed in the sum of $100,000. A temporary restraining order is asked.

Application Denied.

The application of J. W. Swanwick, 20, to present a formal complaint to the United States grand jury was denied by Judge Wallhorn yesterday. Mr. Swanwick and Shirley C. Ward, 20, argued in favor of subordinating the District Attorney to another view of the matter and spoke against such action. Mr. Swanwick contended that as neither the affiants nor plaintiff or defendant had been called to the attention in the trial, he could not be justified in doing so. The grand jury took to the fact that perjury had been committed, the jury would be justified in receiving his communication, which was a recital of facts in the case as claimed from implication. The judge ruled otherwise.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

The funeral of the late Col. C. C. Thomas will be held from the family residence, corner of Jefferson and Figueroa streets, today at 3 o'clock. Friends invited; interment private.

Bernard Fisher's sale at the Broadway Drug Store will be a great money-making woman. Particulars tomorrow morning in our usual fifth-page advertisement.

Our second shipment of pattern hair has arrived, direct from Paris. Selected by Miss Clara Spier and Miss Gifford-Gilmer, 181 S. Spring st.

State Fair—admission, Pentland Hall, October 12-17, admission, 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

For time of arrival and departure of Santa Fe trains, see "Time Card" in today's Times. For information, see Eddie R. Edwards, 181 S. Spring st.

For time of arrival and departure of Santa Fe trains, see "Time Card" in today's Times. For information, see Eddie R. Edwards, 181 S. Spring st.

The Times Job Office is equipped to

When You Leave

A broken watch or a piece of broken jewelry for us to repair we guarantee your satisfaction and the lowest prices for best work.

Spent hairs means your watch thoroughly cleaned and put together so as to be a perfect timekeeper.

Spent hairs puts a New Male Spring, New Holes, Jewel or New Case Spring in your watch.

All work guaranteed one year.

GENEVA WATCH AND OPTICAL CO., 85 SOUTH BROADWAY. GEO. M. WILLIAMS, Prop.

do machine composition, 12 cent, at short notice.

10 cent, 5th anniversary.

Four days' composition begins today at 11 A.M.

Annual underwear sale starts Saturday at the Eddy Dept. Store, L. A.

Annual sale of kid underwear starts Saturday at the Broadway.

Dr. Urmy, dentist, 1814 South Spring street, returns from the East.

Dr. Minott, Worth, 127 S. M. See card.

Dr. Rosenfeld, 127 S. M. See card.

Dr. Clark, Byrne Building, Diseases Women.

Whitney's trunk factory 425 S. Spring

A meeting of the Los Angeles W.C.U. will be held at 8:30 o'clock this afternoon in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of Sixth and Hill streets. Miss J. S. Norwell, one of the finest speakers who ever visited this Coast, will speak on "Three Aspects of Grace."

MARRIAGE LICENSEES.

The following marriage licenses were issued yesterday from the office of the County Clerk:

Fred Norman Wilson, aged 27, a native of New York, and Pearl May, both residents of Los Angeles.

Charles A. Branson, aged 22, a native of New York, and Adelia B. Connally, aged 21, a native of Ohio; both residents of Los Angeles.

John E. Holloman, aged 24, a native of Missouri, and Minnie F. Meyer, aged 20, a native of Wisconsin; both residents of Los Angeles.

John E. Fitzpatrick, aged 26, a native of Wisconsin and May Connally, aged 21, a native of Missouri; both residents of Los Angeles.

Harry B. Bailey, aged 26, a native of Michigan, and Mabel E. Longshore, a native of California; both residents of Los Angeles.

George E. Howard, aged 26, a native of Illinois, and Grace Bojorquez, aged 21, a native of California; both residents of Santa Monica.

George E. Howard, aged 26, a native of England, and Alice Urs Barlow, aged 26, a native of Pennsylvania; both residents of Los Angeles.

George H. Purcell, aged 21, a native of Canada, and Anna Winkler, aged 20, a native of Canada; both residents of Los Angeles.

BIRTH RECORD.

MAYER—October 16, to Mrs. Marie May of Mesa, Ariz., now staying at No. 107 Paley Allis street, a son, weight 10 pounds.

DEATH RECORD.

FRONT—In this city, Wednesday, October 17, 1917, Mrs. Jesus F. Frost, beloved wife of John F. Frost, the Orthodox-averse Baptist Church, Friday, October 13, 1917, at 1 o'clock.

REINHOLD—In Los Angeles, October 16, 1917, Margaret Reinhold, beloved mother of Misses Margaret, Anna, and Elizabeth Reinhold, and Edward Reinhold, a native of Bavaria, Germany.

SMITH—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Smith, widow of E. C. Smith, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Smith, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WOOD—October 16, 1917, Miss Kate Wood of Los Angeles, 1600 S. Spring street.

Funeral notice later.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

WHITEHORN—The funeral of Mrs. Martha Whitehorn will be held today at 1 o'clock from the First Methodist Episcopal Church, 181 S. Spring street.

THOMAS—The funeral of the late Col. C. C. Thomas with full military honors will be held at the First Methodist Church, 181 S. Spring street, on Friday, October 13, 1917, at 10 a.m.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams, 1200 North Figueroa street.

WILLIAMS—At Toluca, Calif., October 16, 1917, Mrs. E. Williams, widow of E. C. Williams, who will be buried at the home of her son, Dr. E. C. Williams,